TALK OF THE TOWN

Read Shea's shoe adv., page 5.—adv. See those new coats, capes and dolmans at Morse's, Montpelier.

Dance in Howland hall Saturday evening. Gents 50c, ladies free. Gilbertson's orchestra.—adv.

Albert Scott, auditor of accounts of the Central Vermont Railway company, returned to the head office in St. Albans this morning after a short stay in Barre.

Good-looking hair, thick and lustrous, is easy to have if you use Parisian Sage two or three times. It's a positive cure for dandruff and itching scalp. Sold under guarantee by E. A. Drown & Co.—adv.

Mrs. J. H. Kelley of upper Prospect street returned home last night from Waterbury, where she was called to see her father, L. Dillingham, who is very poorly from a general breaking down, due to old age.

If you are after a good time, pleasant surroundings and wholesome company, come up to the Odd Ladies' dance in Howland hall, Thursday evening, May 15. One of the best dances of the season. Land's orchestra.—adv.

A victory social will be given by the junior auxiliary, Church of the Good Shepherd, Saturday, May 10, from 3 to 5. Afternoon tea will be served and a good time is planned for all, old and young. Admission, "V" cents. Let's go!—adv.

John McDonald of Springfield, Mass., was the guest of Mrs. Joseph Nelson, his sister, for the past week and this morning returned to his home. This was his first visit to Barre since his return with the 25th division, in which he saw much active service.

Private Dominico Salvador, who attended the mechanical school in Burlington last June, has arrived from France with a unit of the 77th division, according to a telegram received yesterday by one of his friends. He is now waiting to be discharged at Camp Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Gooley, together with their son, Henry, and daughter, Gladys, arrived in the city last night to call on friends and former neighbors in Barre. As Mr. Gooley has business to attend to, they will remain here until Sunday, when they expect to return to their home in Newton, Mass.

A number of business men, about ten in all, left the city Wednesday on a brief outing to their stocked trout brook and pond on the Howland place in Northfield. About 100 trout measuring over eight inches in length were caught for the dinner served at Mr. Houston's home, after which the annual election of officers was held. John O'Leary of Barre was elected president of the club, F. P. Houston vice-president, J. Mackay secretary and C. H. Wishart treasurer.

Jeanette, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason of 21 Howland street, suffered a painful injury to her middle finger Wednesday morning that necessitated the attention of a doctor. While playing around the wringer, which Mrs. Mason was using, the little one, unnoticed, got her finger too close to the cog and in an instant it was drawn in, inflicting severe bruises. Dr. O. G. Stickney was called to dress the injured member and no ill effects are expected.

The state convention of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, to be held in Burlington next week, will be attended by members from the Barre branch each day. Twenty-five members of the local branch are to be sent for the uniform delegation which is to assemble next Tuesday. Minnehaha encampment, No. 2, of Barre will be represented by Denison Densmore and W. H. Richardson; and on Friday Hiawatha lodge, No. 20, by O. W. Averill and W. L. Stowe. Mrs. Lillian Duncan and Mrs. Mamie Johnston are the delegates chosen to represent Bright Star lodge, No. 18, of Barre at the Rebekah meeting which will be held Friday.

The Goddard baseball team will play its fourth game of the season Saturday afternoon, the opposing team being the seconds of the University of Vermont. The university baseball management announces that a strong team is coming. The game will start at 3 o'clock. Goddard will take a week's trip into New Hampshire and Maine next week, starting from Barre Wednesday morning and playing Franklin, N. H., high school on Wednesday afternoon. The following day it meets the second team of New Hampshire State college; on Friday, Portsmouth Athletic club at Portsmouth, N. H.; Saturday, Hebron academy in Maine and possibly a game with the second team of Bates college.

MONTPELIER

Charles Carbo, who left the city as a small boy and who has been living in Boston, was among the decorators who helped ornament Montpelier last week. He called to several of his boy friends as they passed along the street different days this week. While he has grown older, he has increased in size but little. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer and Mrs. Addie Sawyer of Moretown visited today in the city.

A carload of horses arrived this morning from Chicago. These were bought by H. M. Farham.

The town of Cabot has brought an action in general assumpsit against the town of St. Johnsbury. The same town has brought a similar action against the town of Lyndon. Both cases have been entered in Washington county court. J. Ward Carver appears for the plaintiffs and Searles and Graves for the defendant St. Johnsbury.

Several of the local trapshooters are planning to go to Randolph Memorial day, when the Randolph club will have a shoot.

Harvey McAllister of Waitsfield visited yesterday in the city.

George Corse is looking for the person or persons who let the oil run out of the tank in his garage a few nights since. It appears that he left the garage door open when he went out with his automobile. This he generally does, but while he was away the night mentioned, someone went into the garage and opened the faucet in his oil tank, allowing some 20 gallons to leak out. He thinks boys did the trick.

Montpelier seminary baseball team was to have played Norwich university Thursday afternoon, but Norwich cancelled the game.

John Hamel paid a fine in Montpelier city court last evening of $5 and costs for breach of peace. He was charged with striking one Marsha. The affair started in a poolroom on Main street and appeared to develop out of some words between a man named St. John and Marsha over a girl. Hamel, according to Marsha, butted into the talk and it is claimed made to Marsha some derogatory statement relative to the ex-soldier, said to be a YD man. Marsha did not want to fight because he has recently suffered the loss of the ends of three fingers in a machine shop, while his other hand was impaired several years ago. Marsha, according to the papers, left the poolroom and was followed by Hamel and others, and Hamel, near the Red Arch bridge, struck Marsha a couple of times, it is claimed, bruising his face. Marsha reported the matter to the police, which resulted in Hamel's arrest and penalty in court.
